W. P. EMPLOYEE HURT
IN CRASH AT CARLIN

William Katlin, carpenter, employed by the Western Pacific railroad company in some repair work being done on their ice house at Carlin, was the victim of an unfortunate accident last Saturday morning, when he fell forty feet from a scaffold upon which he was working to the ground below. He was picked up unconscious by fellow workmen and rushed to the doctor's office, where it was found that he had broken both arms in the fall, and in addition had fractured three ribs. His face was very badly crushed and he had several bad bruises about the body.

NEXT TEN DAYS TO SEE
START OF NEW RAILROAD

Actual construction work on the Wells-Rogerson branch of the Union Pacific railroad is scheduled to start within the next ten days, according to Thomas S. Buft, right-of-way man for the railroad company, who was in Twin Falls last week. The last obstacle to this construction was removed when Mr. and Mrs. John F. Blakely gave a right of way through their Idaho property to the railroad company. This was the only section through which the necessary deeds had not been heretofore secured by the railroad company, with the exception of school lands near Contact. —Elko Free Press.
